The Web interface for reservations in Entro has been updated. It now no longer requires Java to function properly. This increases simplicity as there is no need for installation or configuration of any kind for the Web interface. It works with most modern browsers like Firefox, Google Chrome, Edge and Safari. It also works with web browsers on cell phones and tablets.

To use the new web interface, the SR35i firmware needs to be updated. It requires version 6.70.52. The content of the CF card also needs to be updated. Both the firmware for the SR35i and CF-card can be obtained via Tech Support. One can also buy a new CF-card.

The CF-cards currently on stock are updated and have the latest content, including the 6.70.52 firmware for the SR35i. The stock of SR35i will not be reworked to get the latest firmware.
